About the company

Blablacar is a corporate car sharing service that allows people who want to travel to the same place at the same time to organize a trip together.

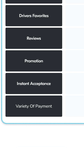
UX Research

Empathy

Have you ever had a relatively close destination seem like a world away?

Problem Statement

People need more direct connections by car for routes that cannot be served by public transport.



74% of respondents believe they would get to their usual destination much faster by car.

54% of respondents spend between 2 and 3 hours commuting to and from work.
